Putting Mattapoisett Youth On The Map

Who said learning geography can't be fun?

Imagine traveling across the country without leaving the Center School playground or throwing a beanbag to Texas all the way from Seattle. Picture yourself standing at the lowest point in the United States even if you lived in Atlanta or visiting the home of Alexander Bell in Nova Scotia even if your home is in Vancouver.

With a Pioneer Map on your school playground, all of those things are possible. By painting a large 20 foot by 30 foot colorful map on playground asphalt or concrete, Pioneers provide students and their teachers with a tangible method of learning geography through games and challenges.

This is the children's chance to show teachers and classmates the different states or provinces they've traveled through. The idea behind the project is to have school children learn geography in the school playground. The Telephone Pioneers of America, Thomas Sherwin Chapter Number 14, is a volunteer service organization comprised of regular active and retired employees of NYNEX, who are attempting to paint maps of the United States on the schoolyards all over eastern Massachusetts. They provide the materials necessary to paint the multi-colored map on the surface. Usually, children participate in painting the map by taking turns.

According to the President of the Southern Massachusetts Council, Helen Flynn, "You can tell which colorful state they are painting just by looking at them."

Due to bad weather, the painting of the map at the Center School in Mattapoisett over the weekend had to be postponed until during the school week when children weren't able to participate. But Mattapoisett Senior Volunteers pulled together and spent all day Friday busily painting. Seven volunteers from Mattapoisett, aged 66-70, got down on their hands and knees to paint a map for the school. They felt it was a worthy cause

Evelyn Pursley, who served as the chairwoman for the Mattapoisett Council on Aging for many years and her husband Gene, a retiree of Nynex, took the time to paint the map along with Andrew and Irene Tiernan, also of Mattapoisett. Mr and Mrs. Lawrence Cairns of Mattapoisett also spent the day tracing and painting the huge map for the benefit of the children. There are five colors used to paint the map. Children are given colored beanbags and when asked about a particular state, throw the beanbag on the correct colored-state.

The Pioneers are also developing a booklet with facts about each state such as the capital, motto, bird, and flower. The Pioneers are hopeful that the school officials, teachers and students will get involved and excited about this map as both a learning tool and delightful addition to the school playground.

So far the Pioneers have painted two maps in Fall River and one in New Bedford in this area.

"The Pioneers have a focus on education, they do various charitable things," Mrs. Pursley explained. The Council of Southern Massachusetts will celebrate its 45th Anniversary this June she said. "The Pioneers are the best kept secret in the world. Last year we raised $96 million," said Gene Pursley. Volunteers donated 37 million hours last year, he added. Martin Senour Paints and R. Richer Company in New Bedford donated paints for the map. Mrs. Pursley said it was quite a rewarding feeling when the Center School students waved and thanked them for painting the map.

Unfortunately, shortly after the map was painted, someone repeatedly rode a bike over the map leaving skid marks. Mrs. Pursley said the map has to dry before it can be permanently sealed. She said they have no future plans to repaint the map at this time or to seal it. "All that hard work on our hands and knees," she said. She said she is afraid if they repainted the map, someone would come and do the same thing.

On the cover: Evelyn Pursley and her husband Gene from Mattapoisett take time out of their busy schedules to paint a map on the playground at Center School. They are members of the Pioneers , a volunteer group of employees and retirees of NYNEX which focuses on education.

He added, "Since the road will be torn up, I would like to see a gas main installed on North Street, so that those of us that would like gas service could have it."

Joseph E. Costa, Executive Director of the Buzzards Bay Project (BBP), informed the board "that the Town of Mattapoisett will receive a $5,000 grant from the [BBP] to help meet the costs of repair and construction of the herring ladder at the Mattapoisett River dam on Route 6." An impartial selection committee was pleased with the project. Mr. Costa said that the BBP "is pleased to be a partner with the state and the towns of Mattapoisett, Marion, Acushnet, and Fairhaven on a project that will restore the herring population on the Mattapoisett River, one of the most important herring runs in Buzzards Bay." Rochester is also getting a grant to "enhance the herring movement further up the Mattapoisett River...these projects together are expected to greatly improve migration of herring, a fish so important in coastal and ocean food chains."

The board also received a letter from Ronald E. Scott, the fire chief. He wrote that he had received a notice concerning single-walled, steel underground storage tanks. It stated that piping must be either "protected from corrosion and fitted with leak detection...or...removed from the ground and optionally replaced with a new approved underground storage tank system." The changes must be made before December 22, 1995 to avoid fines. "I'd like to get a little more information," said Chairman Lambalot. It was unclear in the letter if this applied to the public or just the town tanks. "If it's going to affect homeowners, we should have a little more information for everybody."

James F. Moran, chief of police, wrote that "officer Paul Magee has completed the 80 hour...crime prevention officer training school." Topics covered included "community policing, neighborhood watch, commercial and residential

The meeting was adjourned at 7:25 pm. At this time the board met briefly with the board of assessors who reported the setting of the property tax rate at $13.77. This is a 48 cent raise from last year. The deadline for payment or applications for abatement is November 15. The assessors were pleased to state that this was the earliest the bills have been out for at least 13 years. There being no further business to discuss, the meeting was adjourned.

10th meeting, Selectmen reviewed incoming correspondence. They received a letter from the Marion Board of Assessors, informing them an employee of MMC Inc. of East Providence, Rhode Island has been contracted by the town to review and inspect property within the town of Marion. He will be driving a red Toyota Celica with the Rhode Island license plate PW197. "We ask that you extend courtesy to the above named employee whose obligation is to inspect the interior of all structures and measure the exterior dimensions," according to the Marion Board of Assessors. Mr. Pickles explained the revaluation is required by law and has to be done every nine years.

Susan King also submitted a letter from Dog Officer, Susan King, regarding complaints of barking dogs on Oak Avenue. She said she received numerous complaints about the dogs barking and one neighbor said that two dogs were loose and chasing children. "The last incident was on October 12th when one of the dogs broke loose and knocked a young boy from his bike," she wrote in a letter to Selectmen. "With the present situation Ms. Jollymore is unable to confine her dogs. In my opinion, Ms. Jollymore should build an adequate kennel with a wooden solid fence in front to provide a visual barrier. The additional barrier would help to buffer the barking and may possibly decrease it if the dogs are unable to see every car, person, dog and bike that passes the house." Selectmen agreed to write a letter stating there have been complaints. "If it doesn't improve, we have the option of a having a hearing," Mr. Pickles noted. A letter was received from Superintendent of Schools Joan Walsh asking for authorization to dispose of an upright piano, a stringless cello, a stringless bass and an old safe. The School doesn't provide a string program. In the letter, Ms. Walsh states on of the staff members has a connection which could provide the opportunity for resale. The money would then be deposited in the school activity fund. Selectmen unanimously approved the request. A letter was also received from the Office of Environmental Affairs regarding a Coastal Pollutant Remediation Program.

At 7:05 Selectmen met with Elizabeth Beardsley from the Marion Housing Partnership. She said the group would have been helpful to provide guidelines to Selectmen when reviewing the Mecke development. She said she was disappointed the group wasn't more involved. Chairman Winters explained it was "essentially a planning board process. " He also stated that Selectmen weren't in a controlling position. "I'm puzzled as to why you think we kept your group out," Chairman Winters said. Ms. Beardsley said she felt the threat of a comprehensive permit was used to get people to drop the lawsuit against the developers. Chairman Winters said they felt the comprehensive permit was a "real possibility." "Certainly, we thought the possibility of a comprehensive permit was real. We would never use it as any device to keep your group out. We wish you would've come to us and said that it wasn't a real threat," he said.

Ms. Beardsley said, "We feel you used the threat of the comprehensive permit to force people who brought the suit to drop the suit." Chairman

Winters said it was the Selectmen's role to bring the two parties together to discuss and reach an agreement with both sides. "The site of Mecke development could have turned out a lot worse, it probably could have turned out better, but a lot of young families in town can get affordable housing," he said.

At 7:25 Selectmen met with Lawrence Brown who is interested in filling a position on the Conservation Commission. He said he is interested in conserving the environment and is willing to learn about the Commission. He has served on the recreation committee for many years, he said. "I thought I ought to do something, we certainly have to watch out what is happening out there," he stated.

In other business, Chairman Winters noted there were no bids received for the Taber Hall. "We're going to have to figure out the next step for the future," he said. Mr. Pickles noted that the town and not CJP and Sons Construction, will to the paving for the Stony Run Project. "One reason is we don't want to be under any pressure under the contractor. We believe we'd be able to pave that for about $18,000," he said. Selectman Schaefer said they would be saving money for the residents. There being no further business before the Board, the meeting was adjourned at 7:40 pm.

from the Council On Aging as of October 31 because she is relocating to Florida during the winter months. Selectmen will send her a letter of appreciation. Selectmen noted a rabies clinic to be held at the Grange Hall on Sunday, October 22nd from 10:00 am to 12:00 pm. The cost is $8 per animal. Next, a letter of resignation was received from Linda Cobb, an alternate member of the Finance Committee.Selectmen will also send her a letter of appreciation. Any interested resident may call the Rochester Town Hall for further information about the opening.

Under Old Business, Selectman Hughes said he will be contacting Town Council to find out what can be done about the "Perry Property" in Rochester. "Send them a notice asking what rights do we have to get it cleaned up. We need some assistance," Selectman Hughes said. "It's an eyesore and detrimental to the neighborhood, it looks terrible." He was concerned that the $30,000 escrow bond has been turned over to fix the damages, but the place hasn't been cleaned up yet.

Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes had a concern about town employees not filling out their own pay roll slips. "We should send out a memo for all unsalaried employees, saying each individual must fill out their own time sheet and sign it. I'd also like to see a quarterly report of vacation and sick time," she added. Selectmen unanimously approved her motion.

At 7:15 a hearing was held for the earth removal permit for Walter R. Hartley, Sr. and Greenwood Hartley III (from the excavating company Hartley-Rhodes), to modify the truck route on Walnut Plain Road and to be able to operate on Saturdays. Hartley said he wanted to remain competitive with other businesses and keep up with customers' needs. "Customers have come to us on several occasions and want to purchase materials needed especially for cranberry growers to sand their bogs to protect them against freezing weather. We'd like to provide it for them," Mr. Hartley said. He added that the restriction of making a left hand turn only out of the driveway inconvenienced some local truckdrivers. "They find it an inconvenience; they have to drive through the center of town," he said. Lou Hannigan, a neighbor on Walnut Plain Road, said the general consensus of the neighborhood is they'd rather keep things the same. He said the dust and the traffic inconvenienced them. Another neighbor who lives on the left hand side said he's concerned about trucks driving over his new driveway that cost him about $4,000. Mr. Hartley assured him he would talk to the load operator who will, in turn, tell the drivers to make a tight left hand turn. Chairman Murphy said Mr. Hartley would have to come down "a little bit harder" on the drivers. Selectman Hughes said he has always been in favor of letting the excavating companies operate on Saturdays. "Everybody needs to make a buck," he said. He made a motion to allow the company to operate on Saturdays from 8:00 am-3:30 pm except for the months of June, July and August. Opposed to the motion, Selectman Hawkes said she has had an awful lot of complaints about truck traffic on Rochester roads over the summer months. She said she opposed Saturday operation "for safety reasons and for the neighbors." It passed via majority vote. Selectmen unanimously voted in favor of keeping the truck route the same. They said if they made an exception for him, they'd have

At 7:45 pm Selectmen met with Georgia Chamberlain from the Planning Board and Building Needs Committee. "In the last two years I've observed little participation from out-of-town residents using the beach (at Mary's Pond). " She said according to the responses from surveys given to Rochester residents, people want the beaches used for town residents only. Since the property is owned by Plymouth County, she said the beach must be kept open to the public. "All they need is a letter from the board requesting to relinquish the taking of the county acres in 1926, we can tie into the land the town bought and abandon the original Perry's Lane and rebuild Perry's Lane in back. All of this would be a town beach. The people want it back for themselves. They'd like to see a playground, swimming lessons. I'd like to see great use for that area," Mrs. Chamberlain stated. Chairman Murphy also noted the Building Needs Committee is trying to get facilities for people who have requested them. "We'd like to give youths something to do in the summer months, try to steer them away from trouble," he said. Selectman Hughes said he was not in favor of obtaining the property. "I don't think we should pursue taking the remaining property." He said liability and maintaining the beaches were also a factor. "We don't own any property on Mary's Pond on Mary's Pond Road. When we had a problem with swimming down there, when we had a drowning, we didn't know where we stood legally. (We found out) the property doesn't belong to the town. We don't have the responsibility, the County does," Selectman Hughes said. He explained the property Mrs. Chamberlain was referring to was from the property line on Perry's Lane around the Pond. "They'd like to see the town take over the property and tie it in with the property we own on Perry's Lane, " Selectman Hughes said. Mrs. Chamberlain stated she was the one who went to the Plymouth County Commissioners to find out if it could be done in the first place.

Selectman Hughes said it would be expensive to hire a full time police officer to tell out-of-towners they can't go to the beach. "This needs more study," he said.

"We bought the land 15 years ago, what has been done since then?" Mrs. Chamberlain asked.

Selectman Hughes told her since then, a road has been put in. "This town has had more important things, (such as) fire safety and public safety."

Chairman Murphy said he plans to contact Town Council about the matter.

In other business, Selectmen agreed to send a letter to the Commissioners Office for Rochester to be considered for a satellite office for the Registry of Deeds. The Board met next with Rochester Police Chief Walter Denham who was concerned about a letter he received from the Finance Committee. "I'm disturbed about this memo from the Finance Committee that says there can be no spending to take place for public equipment if it's unforeseen." He said he previously complied with Selectmen's request and has been crucified for it. Selectmen Hughes and Murphy said if he needed more money, they would cross that bridge when they came to it. "We said we'd go to bat for you," Selectman Hughes said.

There being no further business to discuss, the meeting adjourned at 8:35.

HIRING A HOUSE INSPECTOR

Naturally you will carefully inspect any home you intend to purchase as best you can. However, if you are not a building expert and you have some serious questions about the house's structure and systems, it makes sense to hire an independent house inspector to do a professional job. If this is your case, here are a few pointers.

Home inspectors are supposed to work FOR the buyer. The real estate agent is not the inspection expert and he or she will be the first to tell you. Hire a house inspector who is totally impartial. That means someone who simply inspects the house and submits the findings but does nothing whatsoever to correct any fault he may find. In that way, the inspector will not be motivated to "discover" a lot of extra faults as a means toward finding repair work.

The inspector should be knowledgeable enough to give approximate costs of repairs as a guide so the client can make an informed decision on the house.

Call BRUCE today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs, we're here to help!! 758-6738.

requirements of colleges, the skills necessary to be successful, the college admission process, financial aid and the importance of early financial planning. When asked if this was designed primarily for the parents of talented students, Mr. Montague replied, not at all. He said it is their intent to describe the importance of planning for those students who may not yet be thinking about college at all. There is no charge for this program and all parents are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity. As Mr. Montague noted, "We hope that those parents who may not have gone to college or may not be as familiar with today's requirements, make a special effort to attend. This program will be geared to their needs and concerns.

If you have any questions about academic requirements, concerns about how you can afford escalating college costs, or want to learn about the most effective strategies for assisting your child, you will definitely not want to miss this presentation. Mark your calendars!

Mattapoisett River Dam

A news conference was held on Friday, October 13th regarding an announcement by Peter Webber, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management. The Commissioner released the design schematics and funding figures for the repair and restoration project of the Mattapoisett River Dam. The project includes restoration of the herring run at the dam which will enhance this resource for the region. The towns of Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester all have historic rights to the herring run. The project is unusual in that four different towns will be contributing matching funds to its completion. Mattapoisett will contribute $5,000, Marion will contribute $2,500 and Rochester will contribute $2,500. The Town of Fairhaven will also be contributing $5,000 to the completion of the project as the dam repair will help to protect a town drinking water pumping station in close proximity. "This project constitutes a unique cooperative effort of four area towns in the interest of flood control and resource protection," said Representative William Straus (D-Mattapoisett). "The Commissioner has been extremely helpful in facilitating this effort over recent months," he added. Commissioner Webber said, "We are grateful to Representative Straus for personally securing commitments for a shared local match from all four communities that will benefit from this project. We look forward to working with them as we move forward on this significant project."

Mattapoisett Ecumenical Service

The crisis of child poverty in the United States will be examined as Mattapoisett churches join in an ecumenical service at 7:00 pm on October 19th in the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. The public is invited to the service, part of the National Observance of Children's Sabbaths, designed to unite thousands of religious congregations in speaking out and acting faithfully for justice for children and families and to inspire people of faith to respond to children's needs. The observance is being coordinated nationwide by the Children's Defense Fund. Taking part in the Mattapoisett program will be pastors and lay persons from St. Anthony's Church, the Mattapoisett Friends Meeting (Quaker), and the host Congregational Church. A goodwill offering will be taken. There will be a collection of baby food from from those attending to be distributed in the local area.

The Children's Defense Fund reports that more than one in five children in this country (over 15.7 million in 1993) are poor. On the Children's Sabbath, congregations will join in prayer and action to create new hope for children living in poverty and whose lives are threatened by the violence associated with economic injustice.

Mite B (players 8-years-old and under) consist of 16 players and have come a long way since their first practice. Head Coach Marc Santos is cautiously optimistic about his team's chances in the highly competitive Squirt A division (9-10-year-olds). absorb and remember the key characters, geography and major themes of the entire New Testament.

Auditorium floors become maps with Bible lands and waters. The vibrant teaching is frequently punctuated by hand movements and group recitations. In just six hours, virtually anyone can master a survey of the New Testament, even with little prior Bible knowledge. While many people may feel that the New Testament is more familiar than the Old, they are consistently amazed when they find out what they didn't know. According to Pastor George Taylor, a lot of people know some of the highlights of the New Testament but they don't know how it all fits together.

Seminar attendees will also receive a survey of the "400 Silent Years," the period of history occurring between the Old and New Testaments. Anyone interested in attending the seminars should contact Pastor Taylor at the First Congregational Church by calling 763-4314 or 748-2178.
